WELCOME

to the Gawler & Districts 4WD Club

Previously known as "The Light Four Wheel Drive Club of SA Inc." this active 4WD club was founded in 2002. Members voted at the March 2008 meeting to change the club's name and meet at Gawler to give the club a more recognizable name and a more central meeting place.

It has become a very social club and has run many a successful day, week-end, long week-end and extended trips. We are a member of the Four Wheel Drive South Australia which incorporates the Driver Training Unit. Most meetings include a Guest Speaker and a monthly club newsletter.

If you are a visitor to tonight's meeting, we welcome you and your family to our club. Please ask as many questions as you want. You can join us on up to 3 club outings before becoming a member. Trip Leaders run each outing and will be glad to help you with tips on four wheel driving and how to get the best from your vehicle. If you would like to join us on any trips and enjoy what 4WD can really bring, please fill out your details on our Trip Sheet/s.

The Club meets every second Friday in the month at 7.30 pm at the Gawler Elderly Centre Hall in Fourteenth Street, Gawler.

The meeting dates are shown on page 3 of this newsletter.

Annual membership fees are $60 per vehicle/family, plus $10 joining fee.

NOTES FROM YOUR COMMITTEE

President's report:

Gee, are we in February already? I hope that everyone had a good break and managed to get some of the December / January goals met.

There were about 7 vehicles that got together for the Australia day weekend camp at Milang; we'll be looking forward to hearing all about the first club trip of the year.

Although we have a few trips on the calendar, there is still plenty of room for more. If you have any specific areas you would like to visit, please let Dave Riddle know. Even if you might not want to lead a trip, sometimes it only needs a suggestion to get a trip up and running. Of course, if you want to know more about the roles and responsibilities of being a trip leader, don't forget to sign up for the course that Dave and Karen Hall are running next month.

This is your club and the elected committee is here to help with the running of the club. If there is something bothering you or, perhaps, something you like to see done differently, please contact me or one of the committee members. We always welcome constructive input and, while we might not be able to implement all ideas, we will certainly give them a go.

Pete

Editor's report:

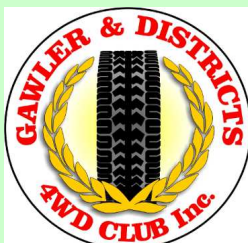

I hope you all had a very enjoyable Christmas/Summer break and you are now looking forward to a great year ahead. Let's see what enjoyable memories 2013 will bring!!

The Royal Society for the Blind had to cancel their April visit due to ongoing illness of the presenter and the puppy not being ready. If anyone has any ideas for a speaker for April please put your suggestions forward to a committee member. Thank you. We also have a couple of proposed visitors/visit for the year - these have yet to be confirmed so please watch that space.

The Zumba lady will be our visitor for February. If you are feeling energetic please feel free to join in - just remember to dress accordingly.

As Pete has already mentioned, if there is anything you would like to see included in your newsletter please let us know. Inputs are always welcome. Thank you.

TIP OF THE MONTH

A second tent, just a cheapie, can be used as a play room, pantry or store room.

Freeze soups and sauces in zip-lock bags - they make great ice bricks and save on washing up.

DEHYDRATION DEMENTIA

Taken from "Westprint Friday Five" dated 4.1.2013

An article to make you think

An article in the December issue of 4x4 Australia by survival expert Bob Cooper raises some interesting comments on dehydration and survival and is an article that should be read by all of us who go outback, for an afternoon bushwalk or even a drive in the car. One paragraph discusses water management - in this he says: Quote" most people don't know how much water they should consume a day just in domestic situations, let alone in extreme heat or even just in normal bush-walking or picnicking. Sipping doesn't prevent dehydration would be the other thing people don't understand, don't appreciate, and the effects on your metabolism.

The first organ to suffer from dehydration is your brain and the loss of two litres of body fluid, which can happen in an hour, can impair your ability to think clearly by 25 percent, so then you become irrational and if you keep sipping water and become more dehydrated you can suffer from a thing called dehydration dementia and that's often why they have to have a coroner to come and make some sense out of a death because it doesn't make sense (what the deceased people have done) but they were suffering from dehydration dementia - and just not knowing that has killed people, and they've died with water in their water bottles because they've sipped it, trying to make it last, instead of drinking it when they needed it.

He also goes on to say with regard to any water consumption - never sip. Drink a cupful at a time, if you sip water the first mouthful goes to your digestion, the second to your liver and kidneys and none gets to your brain" End quote Robyn Davidson in her book "Tracks" writes: "How deceptive this country was. And the extremes on temperature were something to be felt to be believed. From those pale icy below zero dawns, to boiling mid-day, to the settling longed-for cool of evening and back to the crystal cold of night. I learnt to shiver myself warm.

The other thing I learnt was not to drink during the day. I would have four or five mugs of tea in the morning, maybe a short drink (half a cup) at midday, and then nothing until I camped at night, when I would quaff down eight or nine cups of liquid. It is strange that, when the sun and the dry air suck gallons of sweat out of you during the day, the more you drink the thirstier you become". End quote.

Here again cups of liquid, not sips is food for thought. When we drive in our air-conditioned four wheel drives or cars, perhaps long distances and in many cases directly into the sun, sipping water, it makes you wonder about driver fatigue and tiredness relative to the effect on the brain of perhaps dehydration dementia. Too much for me, maybe the medical experts would like to comment.

TRIP REPORTS

Australia Day Long Weekend, January 2013 – Milang

John and I were fortunate enough to leave on Thursday, having an extra long weekend. Friday saw the arrival of Nick, Kerrie, Kaleb & Ally, Paul, James & Michael, Darryll and Joan, Wayne & Sandra, Brent, Keryn and Will, Roy & Bronwyn. Max and Lyn were the last of our group arriving on Saturday. The Corellas sure did their best to welcome us all and provided us with plenty of calling cards and we certainly did not need any alarm clocks!

The caravan park is in a beautiful spot and it was quite a novelty to have some green grass and lawn around our site. Lake Alexandrina was just a short stroll across the road and set the scene for some great photo opportunities.

Australia Day turned the park into a sea of Australian flags in all shapes and sizes. Some members were decked out in hats, Sunnies shorts.

Sunday morning some of the ladies went off the Goolwa Markets. Others relaxed and watched the Yachts sale off in the race from Milang to Goolwa. They made a spectacular sight. John, Nick, Paul, James and Michael decided to try their luck fishing. James had the most success and of course the biggest ones all got away!

All too soon it was Monday morning and a couple of keen photographers Sandra and John were already up taking pictures of the sunrise. Roy & Bronwyn, Darryll & Joan were lucky enough to stay a couple of extra days while the rest of us slowly packed to head home.

A very pleasant weekend was had by all. Thank you all for your company and we look forward to our next club trip.

[Jane and John]

Nuts and Bolts Day with Wanderers

A couple of us went along to the "annual" Nuts and Bolts day run by Geoff and Jeanne Boundy from the Wanderers 4WD Club. Geoff has a wealth of 4WD experience and is certainly a bush mechanic who would be welcome on any trip. This year, among other things, saw demonstrations of:

- Welding using 2 batteries connected in series (ie 24v)
- Repairing radiators using Roof and Gutter sealant
- Transferring transmission oil using a foot / bike pump, and
- Safety caps for gas bottles.

Q: Why did the math book visit the doctor? A: Because it had problems.

Q: Why are cakes similar to baseball teams? A: They both need good batters.

Q: Why was the Energizer Bunny arrested? A: He was charged with battery.

Q: There are 2 cowboys in the kitchen. Which one is the real cowboy? A: The one on the range

A small boy stunned his parents after church one Sunday when he began to empty his pockets of nickels, dimes, and quarters. Finally his mother asked the obvious question: "Where did you get all that money?"

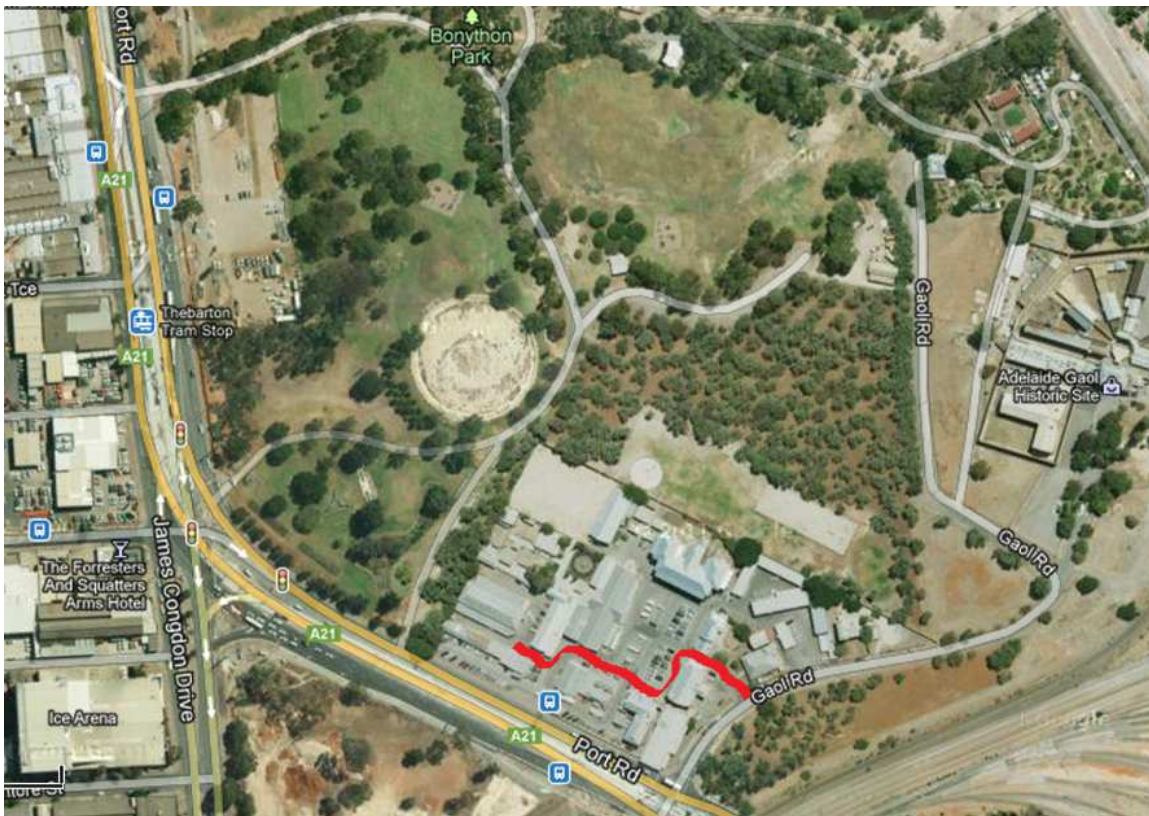

"At Sunday school," the boy replied enthusiastically. "They got bowls of it!"
